FOR THE PARADE.

Grand Marshal White's General Orders Are Made Public-

ROUTE HAS BEEN EXTENDED

To Twenty-seventh Street From Twenty-fourth as Originally An-nounced—The Marshall Appears to Have Provided Well for Every Contingency — Division Marshal Thomas H. Norton Issues General

At the meeting of the division marshals, company commanders and aldes, held last night at the rooms of the board of county commissioners, Grand Marshal White presiding, all arrange-ments for the big parade to-morrow were made, and the situation discussed. Each officer was made familiar with his particular duties, in order that no unforeseen hitches might occur at the eleventh hour. As announced Monday night, the route was from Seventh to Twenty-fourth streets; yesterday the grand marshal amended his orders by extending the route to Twenty-seventh street, a change that will be well re-ceived on the South Side. The orders in full are as follows:

does expectant mothers so much good is because it is an external liniment, to be spilled upon the outside, where much of the strain comes. It helps because the pores of the skin readily absorb it, and it comes into direct contact with and is absorbed by the parts involved. Morning sickness is quickly banished, and nervousness is kept completely away. The sense of dread and foreboding is not experienced, even during labor itself. Confinement is short and almost without pain. Recovery is quick and sure. Best of all, Mother's Priesse benefits the unborn just as much as the expectant mother, and when the little one comes it will be strong, lusty and healthy.

KIMBERLEY'S JOY

When Gen. French's Victorious Army Entered the City.

CONVOY TRAIN IS WELCOME

Sight to the Hungry Garrison and Inhabitants Who Were on Short Bations, Having Exhausted the Supply of Horse Flesh-Great Demonstrations of Joy.

MODDER RIVER, Monday, Feb. 19. Although the rapid march of General French's division was marked by a number of conflicts, the actual entry into Kimberley was unopposed. the British were still eight miles off the signalling corps intercepted a helio-graph message from the beleaguered garrison to Modder river, saying:

"The Boers Are Shelling the Town." The advancing column replied: "This is General French coming to the relief of Kimberley."

The garrison was incredulous, and thought the message was a Boer ruse and flashed the query: "What regiment are you?"

reply satisfied the defenders of Kimberley that the anxiously-awaited success was at hand, and a few hours later General French, at the head of s column, made a triumphant entry into the place; the people surounding the troops and interminging with them, cheering wildly, grasping the soldiers hands, waving flags, hats and handker-chiefs, and exhibiting in a hundred ways the intensity of their joy.

On Short Rations.

The inhabitants had been on short rations for some time, eating horse fiesh and living in burrows under heaps of mine refuse. Diminishing rations were served out daily, at 11 o'clock in the market square, under the shell fire of the enemy whose guns opened on the square whenever the inhabitants as-sembled. No horse food was left. Throughout the seige Cecil Rhoder provided the natives with work and food and thus kept them quiet.

The miles of convoy bearing provisions for the relief column and the town slowly winding its way across the plain in the direction of Kimberley, was the gladdest sight which greated the eyes of the besieged for four months. General French's march was so rapid and the heat so intense that many of his horses died of exhaustion.

Boers Bolted.

At the crossing of the Modder river the Boers Bolted, leaving their tents, guns, oxen wagons and large quantities of ammunition in the hands of the British. Moving northward, the Boers again attempted to stem the advance, but General French turned their flank and reached his goal with insignificant losses—seven men killed and thirty-five wounded during three days, from Wednesday, February 14, to Friday, Febru ary 16. After a night's rest at Kimberley, General French's column pursued the Boers to Brontveld, surround ed the kopjes on which they w ed and shelled them till night fall, when the Boers fled, leaving many dead.

Bailroad to Kimberley Opened. LONDON, Feb. 20, 2:56 p. m.-Th war office was issued a dispatch from Lord Roberts, the main importance of which is the fact that it is dated Paardeberg, 7:05 p. m., Monday. Paarde berg is thirty mlles east of Jacobsdal The dispatch anounces that the railroad to Kimberley is open and that Genera Methuen will proceed there with rein-forcements forthwith and that large supplies will be forwarded to the town,
